CLINT DeMOSS GETS DOMINANT WIN IN AMERICAN MODIFIED SERIES FEATURE
HILLMAN, SIMS, SMITH ALSO VICTORIOUS IN EXCITING NIGHT OF RACING

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. – The American Modified Series stormed into Bloomington Speedway and put on an exciting night of racing on Friday, July 8, at Bloomington Speedway. The AMS featured adrenaline-pumping action for a big $1,500 prize.

The event featured the American Modified Series Modifieds, the Tire and Wheel Center UMP Super Stocks, the Chad's Towing and Recovery Hornets and the UMP Bomber cars.

Clint DeMoss, of Bloomington Ind., stole the lead of the American Modified Series feature early in the event and stormed out to a big lead. DeMoss dared the rest of the field to challenge for the lead position as he picked his way through lapped traffic. A late restart set up a three man chase to the finish between DeMoss, Michael England, of Glasgow Ky., and DeMoss's brother John, also of Bloomington Ind. Three wide battles for position raged behind the lead pack as the Clint DeMoss was able to fend off a hard charging England to get the win.

Chris Hillman, of Camby Ind., started at the front of the Tire and Wheel Center UMP Super Stock feature race and was immediately met with a furious battle. Hillman set a blistering pace but was forced to duel intensely with Kenny Carmichael Sr., of Terre Haute Ind., for the entirety of the race. The two deftly maneuvered through lapped traffic and restarts before taking their fight to the finish. Hillman used a strong run out of Turns Three and Four to grab his first Bloomington Speedway feature win of the season.

Brian Sims, of Hope Ind., started the UMP Bomber feature just ahead of Lee Hobbs, of Mitchell Ind., and the two would be locked in an epic clash for first over the entire 25-lap event. Sims leaped ahead and forced Hobbs to look high, look low and look everywhere in between to get in to the lead position. The two ran away from a highly competitive field of bombers as their battle came down to the final turn with Sims coming away with the twin checkered flags.

Jeremy Smith, of Bloomington Ind., charged into the lead early in the Chad's Towing and Recovery Hornets feature and never looked back. Smith, who had been strong through the entire night, dove hard to the inside of points leader Travis Rodgers, of Clayton Ind., to grab the lead. Behind Smith, the field fought for second position with Ryan Tusing, of Bloomington Ind., and Matt Jacobs, of Bloomington Ind., sneaking by Rodgers as the checkered flag fell.

The next scheduled night of racing at Bloomington Speedway is the Hoosier Country 105 Night Friday, July 15. The event is the sixth stop on the 24th Annual Indiana Sprint Week featuring the United States Auto Club Sprint Cars. They will be joined by the Midwest Mini Sprint Association Mini Sprint Cars. Gates open at 5:30 p.m., hot laps start at 6:30 p.m. with racing getting under way at 7:30 p.m. General admission tickets are $20 with children 12 and under FREE with a paying adult.
